Not illustrated. 1902 Excerpt: ...areas. It has been found that the line of outcrop of the base of the Pottsville formation on the crests of the Pottsville ridges, the 3200 foot contour drawn on top of the Pottsville formation and the crests of the Potts The major folds situated in part in Garrett county are seven; four of them being synclines, and three, anticlines. There is a long syncline (the Georges Creek-Potomac syncline) along the eastern boundary of the county. This is succeeded on the west by a long anticline (the Deer Park anticline) which extends from near the northeast to near the southwest corner of the county. West of this are two synclines (the Castleman syncline at the north and the Upper Youghiogheny syncline at the south) which are disconnected by a low uplift and are neither quite in line nor quite parallel. The axis of the latter is situated farther to the northwest, and its direction is nearer north and south, than the axis of the former. West of these two synclines are two anticlines (the Accident anticline at the north and the Cranesville anticline at the south) which like the synclines last described are also disconnected, and whose axes are both out of line and divergent. The discrepancy in the position and direction of the axes is similar to that of the axes of the above mentioned synclines, but is even greater in amount. Northwest of these anticlines is a syncline (the Lower Youghiogheny syncline). The Upper Youghiogheny syncline, from its position flanking the Deer Park anticline on the west, would seem to be more closely related to the Castleman than to the Lower Youghiogheny syncline. But it is structurally more, closely related to the latter, as it is joined with it at a point on the axis 200 feet lower than with the former; and is a fold of the same broad uns...
